

Make a model of the world!!

Blow up a balloon – but not too big! Then cover it with paper mache (strips of newspaper and wallpaper paste) – it's best to do a couple of layers, leave those to dry, then add a few more. The more layers you do the stronger your model will be.

Then leave it to dry completely.

Next prick the balloon to burst it, take it out and use a bit more paper mache to cover the hole

Then you can either paint or colour these outlines on and stick them on or copy them and paint your own. Be careful not to press too hard or your world might get dented !!
